

My profound interest in machine learning (ML), artificial intelligence (AI), and their applications in computer vision and robotic perception is driven by a strong foundation in computer technology